Artists

KIRSTIN LOEFFLER (Set & Costume Design) resides in Boston where she designs sets and costumes for theatre and film. Previous productions with Nigel Maister include costume design for The House of Bernarda Alba and Spring Awakening, as well as the American premiere of Roberto Zucco. She also did Set and Costume Design for Punch! (at the American Living Room Fest. in NYC). Other credits include The Heiress, Once in a Lifetime, Playing with Fire, Bastien and Bastienne, and Cabaret.

JEFF CROITER (Lighting Design) has designed for regional theaters including Syracuse Stage, The Fords Theatre, Berkshire Theatre Festival, Walnut Street, and The Hanger. In New York City, he has worked at The Actors Studio, Malaparte Theatre, Soho Rep, Naked Angels, The Judith Anderson, Circle Rep, The Joyce, The Ohio, and HERE (on Punch and Judy, directed by Nigel Maister). His work has also been seen in Lisbon, Moscow, Riga and Paris. As an assistant he worked on the Broadway productions of The Little Foxes, The Rose Tattoo, Getting Away With Murder and the soon to close Jackie. Jeff also recently designed Larry King Really Live, written by and starring Larry King.

OBADIAH EAVES (Score & Sound Design) is a graduate of Bard College. Recent UR credits include the music and sound score for The House of Bernarda Alba, Baal and Spring Awakening, as well as the score for Nigel Maister's production of Punch! at the American Living Room Festival in NYC. Other work includes Classic Stage Company's Phaedra in Delirium in NYC and Night Mother in Boston. His band "Big Hair" has recently released their second CD and performs frequently in the Rochester area.
